

Custom Oracle® Consulting & Reports Development

Do you change your business to fit your software or customize your software to fit your business?

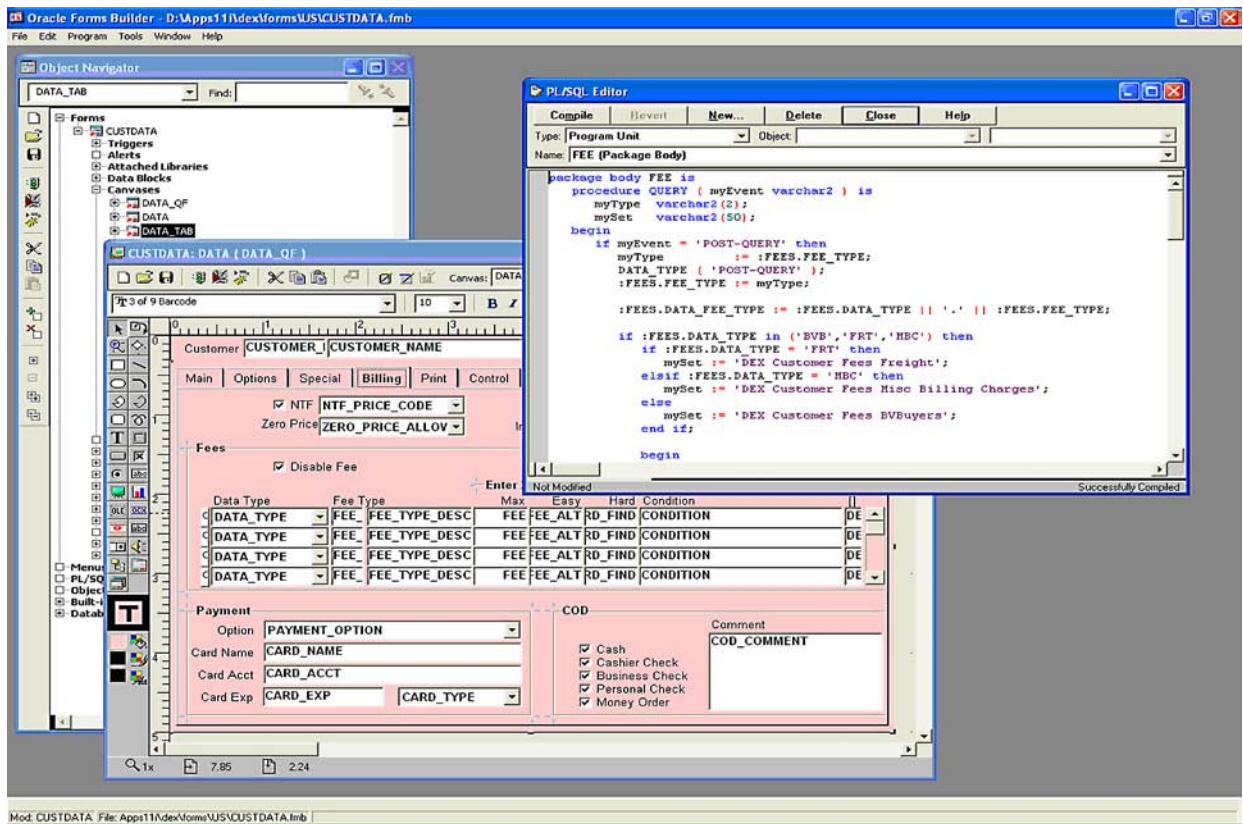

Driving your business to the next level of success takes visibility of your entire organization and processes, flexibility of your reporting to provide the precise information you need and the reliability that your software is battle tested and proven. Any breakdown can be the difference between success and failure.

At DEX we have the experience and knowledge to blend your systems, processes and human performance elements to greatly enhance the power of your Oracle® e-business suite. Our Professional Services Team has the ability to analyze your unique business needs and then design, build and rapidly deploy your custom, technology-based business solutions with built-in upgradeability to allow your custom solutions to easily adapt to your changing business needs.
